* Depending on the type of product

Take a leap into automation with the OML-1060, a new generation of budget conscious bagger. The OML-1060 is the latest innovation in entry-level, automatic bagging system to fill open-mouth bags with free flowing products.

The OML-1060 is reliable, easy-to-install in existing packaging line and has a very compact footprint.

This bagging system is ideal for low and medium capacities, offering quick and easy changeovers between different bag sizes or products. It uses simple technology, making it easy to operate and maintain.

The OML-1060 is more than just an affordable bagging solution, it's a first step towards automated packaging operations
